

Back to Basic Play Inspired by Kardtect's Building Cards

Kardtect's encourages children to build incredible card houses while building important life skills for themselves!

BLOOMSBURG, PA, USA, September 17, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Kardtect's Building Cards helps build a strong and powerful foundation through their exclusive and all original products. The company is encouraging children to get back to basic play and build amazing card houses using their creativity and imaginations!

Play is one of the most vital aspects of a child's day. It offers immense value in developing a child's skills for life. The toys they play with are often thought of as building blocks for achieving these skills, and so it is important to consider what foundation children are building with the toys they are playing with.

It's been said that the more a toy does, the less a child does. That is why getting back to basic play is extremely beneficial. Active free play allows the child to take charge; to create, discover, learn, grow, and imagine. Children who do this develop new abilities which lead to greater confidence in themselves and the world around them.

Kardtect's is encouraging children to Master the Fun of card building, and in doing so, they have the opportunity to master life's skills and challenges. Kardtect's Building Cards provides essential elements for making a child's play time a rewarding experience.

Each pack of Kardtect's includes not only the exclusive Kardtect's Building Cards to enable the building of incredible card structures, but also the collectible Kardtect's Destroyer character cards and disks. Combined, these winning elements make the building and the knocking down of Kardtect's an exciting experience.

Kardtect's (Card Architects) build upon the strength and excellence of a Kardtect's CORE foundation.

*Creativity. Imaginations are endless. The creative nature in each child is stimulated by playing with Kardtect's Building Cards.

*Originality. Kardtect's cards, destroyers, and disks are completely original. Children reach new levels in the timeless activity of card building (and the knocking down).

*Rewarding. Getting back to basics and applying skills of hands on play is incredibly rewarding. A child receives a true sense of accomplishment when building and playing with Kardtect's cards.

*Engaging. Kardtect's (Card Architects) engage in both creating their own constructions, and in demolishing them. It is fun from beginning to end.

This C.O.R.E (creativity, originality, rewarding, and engaging) of all Kardtect's building sets brings to life the winning combination of Creating and Destroying for Never-Ending Fun! But most of all it gives children the opportunities to grow, learn, and build secure foundations for life.
